

Australia's Oldest Synagogue (932)

Tales of colonial history in Hobart (12)

A small, small Jewish world (13)

The Story of Sarah Cohen (2765)

Was Michael Solomon the black sheep of the family? (2767)

Banished to Van Diemen's Land, how two convicts named Solomon shaped Hobart's Jewish history (1)

Samuel Moses (1202)

WIN News video feature on the synagogue (1061)

175 years young: Hobart Shule's landmark anniversary (1060)

7 News short feature on Synagogue (1062)

At 175 years and a change, it's only fitting that the synagogue should celebrate its anniversary in a way that is both traditional and modern. As you enter the building, you are greeted by the warm glow of the chandelier, which has been hanging since the building was first opened. There is a small room that was once used for the synagogue's library, but it is now a small room for the synagogue's office. The synagogue is a small building, but it is a very important building. It is a place where the Jewish community of Hobart can gather and celebrate. The synagogue is a place where the Jewish community of Hobart can find a home. It is a place where the Jewish community of Hobart can find a place to belong.

Speech at 175th anniversary (1074)

Surviving in a Distant Land: Jews in Nineteenth-Century Hobart (1075)

The Jewish past of Tasmania (1059)

Photograph of Hildern (1684)

The Last Post Ceremony commemorating the service of 2nd Lieutenant Herbert Abraham Ansell, 8th Machine Gun Company, First World War. (1651)

Jeff Schneider – Jews in Tasmania; an update (2776)

Danya Ruttenberg on repentance and repair (2779)

David isn't the only Jew in Tasmania, although sometimes it feels that way (2786)

Community and diversity keeping the faith at the synagogue without a rabbi (2787)

Great Australian Walks with Julia Zemiro (2803)